

General Services Administration

Brief Description of Organization:

GSA provides workplaces by constructing, managing, and preserving government buildings and by leasing and managing commercial real estate. GSA's acquisition solutions offer private sector professional services, equipment, supplies, and IT to government organizations and the military. GSA also promotes management best practices and efficient government operations through the development of governmentwide policies.

Describe the qualities you look for in a supplier:

GSA is looking for technically competent responsible industry partners who are interested in offering their commercial products and services to the government marketplace through the GSA Schedules program. GSA also has design and construction contracting opportunities. To learn more about how all GSA design and construction opportunities are advertised visit,

List products/services your organization is looking to purchase in the near future:

Future opportunities are usually forecasted by agency or department. Explore the websites of the agency's small business department you'd like to do business with for more information. The GSA Subcontracting Directory (for small businesses seeking opportunities published by Large prime contractors), and our Forecast of Contracting Opportunities Tool are available for your review. Also, The Federal Business Opportunities website lists all open contracting opportunities over $25,000 across the federal government. There, you can create an account and have your own custom "My FBO" home page with Quicklinks, Quicksearch, and instructional videos.

List the certifications that are important to your organization:

- All small businesses
- Women Owned Small Businesses and Economically Disadvantaged Women Owned Small Businesses (WOSBs & EDWOBs)
- Small Disadvantaged Businesses (SDB)
- Historically Underutilized Business Zone (HUBZone)

- Veteran-Owned Small Businesses and Service Disabled Veteran Owned Small Businesses (VOSBs & SDVOSBs)
