

Andy Fiumefreddo has a passion for helping people understand cybersecurity risks and provide recommendations on how to secure their most important information. Andy, an IT Risk Manager for American Family Insurance residing in Green Bay, WI, has over 22 years' experience in Information Technology and Security roles across Manufacturing, Healthcare, Banking, and Insurance sectors. In his current team he leads, risk assessment consultants and third-party Cyber Risk, are responsible for identifying cyber risks on all external companies which have access to American Family data or technologies.