- 10 Tips for Marketing to DoD

1. Follow the money.
2. Arm yourself with information and facts, not emotion.
3. Find your niche. Don't try to be everything to everybody.
4. Target your market and understand your prospective customer's mission, environment, challenges and hot buttons.
5. Meet with Small Business Professionals.
6. Don't provide a standard, canned presentation to potential customers. Research their requirements and understand their challenges.
7. Explain how your service or product has a positive impact on a project's cost, schedule and performance.
8. Identify your differentiators—what separates you from other great performers?
9. Translate the relevancy of your past performance; don't expect a prospective customer to do it for you.
10. When you meet with Program Managers and Contracting Officers, be prepared to discuss a real requirement, not your generic capabilities

FINDING POINTS OF CONTACT

- Procurement Center Representatives
- Procurement Center Representatives (PCRs) help small businesses win federal contracts. PCRs view many federal acquisition and procurement strategies before they're announced. This enables them to influence opportunities that should be set aside for small businesses.
- PCRs also conduct market research, assist small businesses with payment issues, provide counseling on the contracting process, and more.

"Advocating for small business utilization and ensuring equal opportunities to conduct business with the Command"

USSOCOM's Office of Small Business Programs (OSBP) is designated to advocate on behalf of small businesses and strives to meet the goals mandated by Congress and the Office of the Secretary of Defense, ensuring equal opportunities to conduct business with the Command. This office should be one of a small business' first contacts when initiating communication with USSOCOM.

The OSBP is dedicated to helping you and your business. They will explain known requirements, help you understand who buys what within the Command, and can assist you in locating other likely markets within DoD and developing strategies for accessing those markets. They provide information and guidance on defense procurement policies and procedures as well as methods for identifying prime contracting and subcontracting opportunities.

The DoD and USSOCOM continually strive to increase the number of contract awards to small businesses, service-disabled veteran-owned small businesses, woman owned small businesses, small disadvantaged businesses, historically underutilized business zones. Small businesses are encouraged to contact the office directly with questions or requests to visit the command.

For

Defense Wide Procurement Capabilities

(A Functional Strategy)

AGENCY STRATEGIC PLANS

This plan was developed within the framework of the National Defense Strategy and targets the reform line of effort to change the way we do business to maximize DoD enterprise solutions, leverage standards and acquire equipment and services more efficiently. Initiatives achieved to date are summarized at https://www.acq.osd.mil/dpap/pdi/p2p/p2p_capability_summaries.html. Target initiatives for FY20-FY2025 are identified in Appendix 5.1. Most initiatives target improvements to achieve efficiencies, implement legislation, and address audit findings and sustainment of internal controls.

AGENCY STRATEGIC PLANS

LINE OF EFFORT #1: Increase Readiness & Lethality

To increase readiness and lethality, we must execute our war-time mission every day to develop, deliver, support, and sustain air, space, and cyberspace dominance, today and tomorrow. Our decision-makers need to be fully threat informed, and the National Defense Strategy (NDS) directs us to rapidly respond with higher-fidelity threat information tailored to our customers' needs. AFMC is the trusted provider of Air Force resources and systems across our changing domains. By delivering the measured improvements in the below categories, we will ensure that this effort remains successful.

- Infrastructure – Invest in ready, resilient, lethal bases.
- Counter-Small Unmanned Aircraft Systems (C-sUAS) – Develop strategy and deploy systems to protect against this emerging threat.
- Cybersecurity – AFMC CONOP development and execution.
- Aircraft Availability Improvement Plan (AAIP) – Increase Mission Capable Rates each Fiscal Year.
- Priority Program Reviews – Synchronize AFMC review and support of special interest items & programs.
- Decision—Tools & Processes –Analyze resource capability shortfalls relative to Air Force Warfighting Integration Capability.
- Operational Agility – Maximize AFMC effectiveness as we support the warfighter.

GAO PRODUCTS

- GAO provides Congress, the heads of executive agencies, and the public with timely, fact-based, non-partisan information that can be used to improve government and save taxpayers billions of dollars.
- Their work is done at the request of congressional committees or subcommittees or is statutorily required by public laws or committee reports, per their Congressional Protocols.

GAO-20-195G

Published: Mar 12, 2020.

Publicly Released: Mar 12, 2020.

If the government is following the GAO's guide to assess technology, then it would make sense for a company to use that same guide to evaluate its technology and possibly identify areas that need to be corrected or shored up prior to pitching it to the government.

The item dealing with costs is probably more relevant in a general sense.

GAO PRODUCTS

Another report example:

Veterans Community Care Program: VA Needs to Strengthen Its Oversight and Improve Data on Its Community Care Network Providers

If the report is pointing out weaknesses or deficiencies then the agency may need to take action and that may equate to developing a new program or letting a contract.

If a company is responding to a RFP the information in a slightly related report may provide ideas on how to structure their response/offerings.

Table of size standards

Effective Oct 1, 2022

SBA's table of small business size standards helps small businesses assess their business size.

The table of size standards can also be found online in the small business size regulations set forth in the Electronic Code of Federal Regulations.

Certain government programs, such as SBA loan programs and contracting opportunities, are reserved for small businesses. In order to qualify, businesses must satisfy SBA's definition of a small business concern, along with the size standards for small business.

What is a small business size standard?

A size standard, which is usually stated in number of employees or average annual receipts, represents the largest size that a business (including its subsidiaries and affiliates) may be to remain classified as a

Each year, the Federal Government awards about 10% of all federal contract dollars, or roughly $50 billion in contracts, to Small Disadvantaged Businesses. SBA's Office of Government Contracting and Business Development monitors the progress of 24 Executive Branch agencies in contracting with Small Disadvantaged Businesses.

You may register your business as a Small Disadvantaged Business if you meet the following criteria set by the Code of Federal Regulations:

- The firm must be 51% or more owned and controlled by one or more disadvantaged persons.
- The disadvantaged person or persons must be socially disadvantaged and economically disadvantaged.
- The firm must be small, according to SBA's size standards.

Small businesses owned by veterans can compete for set-aside contracts at the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA). Through its Veterans First Contracting program, VA awards a large amount of contract dollars to veterans every year by offering set-aside contracting opportunities. VA also sets aside contracting opportunities for businesses owned by veterans who are service-disabled.

Eligibility requirements

Businesses must be formally verified as a Veteran-Owned Small Businesses (VOSB) or Service-Disabled Veteran-Owned Small Businesses (SDVOSB) to participate.

Notice: VOSB verification will transfer from VA to SBA in 2023

As required by the National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA) of 2021, VA's Center for Verification and Evaluation will be transferred to SBA effective January 1, 2023.

Program benefits

The federal government aims to award at least 3% of all federal contracting dollars to Service-Disabled Veteran-Owned Small Businesses (SDVOSB) each year.

Competition is limited for certain federal contract opportunities to businesses that participate in the SDVOSB program.

Joining the SDVOSB program makes your business eligible to compete for the program's set-aside contracts. You can still compete for contract awards under other socio-economic programs you qualify for.

SDVOSBs may self-certify their status to compete for set-aside contracts at most federal agencies. However, VA does not recognize SDVOSB self-certification.

Eligibility requirements

To qualify for the SDVOSB program, your business must:

- Be a small business according to SBA's size standards
- Be at least 51% owned and controlled by one or more service-disabled veterans
- Have one or more service-disabled veterans manage day-to-day operations who also make
